WINTER JANUARY

On SOPTV  PBS 6-Part Series

Mercy Street

Based on real events, this new series takes viewers beyond the battlefield and into the lives of a diverse cast of characters. Doctors, nurses, contraband laborers, and Southern loyalists intersect in the chaotic world of Union-occupied Alexandria, Virginia and the Mansion House Hospital in the early years of the Civil War. Set in Virginia in the spring of 1862, the story follows the lives of two volunteer nurses on opposite sides of the conflict.

Peregrine Dame with Rachel Parsons

In a new travel series Rachel Parsons looks at what traveling the world, completely alone, as a solo female means — no crew, no companions. Proving that traveling solo doesn't have to be so scary, Rachel wanders the world alone meeting new people, pushing emotional and personal limits, and encouraging others to do the same. From visiting Mayan ruins in Belize to punting on the Cambridge River in England, she shares history, culture, and a couple of meltdowns.

FUNDING MATTERS

Mark Stanislawski

Your support continues to make the difference in the quality and quantity of our services. Our local program services are supported by three primary sources: viewers like you, support from local businesses, and federal Community Service Grants from the Corporation for Public Broadcasting (CPB).

SOPTV also seeks funding for projects from foundations to help fund our locally produced programs. And, from time to time, SOPTV contributes programming to the PBS national schedule. Our current project, SIGHT: The Story of Vision, is our second production with Koenig Films and will be ready sometime this spring — more about SIGHT in a future article. SOPTV is also involved in a music series, Music Gone Public, which is currently seen on stations across the country. Thanks to your support we have been able to launch our Veterans' series and develop a new series about the towns of our region (to be broadcast later this year).

Below is a summary of our 2015 annual audit. If you have any questions about SOPTV's finances, please call. A full copy of our audit is posted on our website:

Digital broadcast technology continues to evolve. Already you can find 4K (ultra-high-definition) television sets on sale, and at the same time more video is being accessed on small screens (tablet computers and cell phones). It's an exciting time to be in this industry because we seem to be in continuous change. One colleague remarked we are now operating in an environment of "permanent whitewater."

Despite the focus on changing technology, we know programming is why you support SOPTV. Our commitment to bringing you the "best television on television" continues... although you may be accessing these programs from a variety of sources. Thank you for the work we do together.

New BBC Series

Luther

Starring Idris Elba, Luther is a gripping, smart, and entertaining psychological thriller driven by an intellectually brilliant but emotionally impulsive cop. For Luther, his profession is a vocation rather than a job. He serves his own idea of a moral order as much as rules and codes of criminal law.

Fridays, 10 & 11 pm; starts Jan. 8

Wild Horses of the West

Wild horses are one of the biggest stories in the West right now. The film examines most of the current issues regarding wild horses, such as controversial helicopter roundups, but with emotional segments including challenged children and female wounded warrior veterans working with wild horses.
