Members' Message

A VERY HOT SUMMER!

As I write the October message, Florida and the southeast coast of the U.S. is being pounded by Irma, and southern Oregon is still engulfed in smoke. While Oregon firefighters continue to work on containing these fires, the remote terrain and high winds delay progress. This is truly an unprecedented year for wildfire throughout southern Oregon and the land to the west of the Cascades in the Willamette Valley.

For local broadcasters (radio and television), southern Oregon's beautiful mountains and valleys offer a significant challenge in providing over-the-air "free" service to those who live in rural communities. This summer has been particularly difficult because many of SOPTV's translators are located in fire zones, and the smoke and high heat are taking their toll on our equipment. Service on Charter Cable and Direct Broadcast Satellite (DIRECTV and Dish) have been unaffected (although the satellite services only offer one of SOPTV's three channels of service).

Most public television stations use a single transmitter to reach their broadcast service area. By comparison, here is what's happening in our area:

- Brookings is served by our translator on Red Mound on ch 15, near the Chetco Bar fire;
- Cave Junction is served by our translator on Eight Dollar Mountain, also near the Chetco Bar fire;
- A large share of Grants Pass receives its signal from ch 8, but we have experienced problems on our ch 19 translator. We will have restored service by the time you read this;
- Williams ch 2 is near the Miller Complex fire;
- Prospect (also on ch 2) is near the Flounce fire;
- Translator service on Phoenix-Baldy (ch 42 and 34), Shady Cove (ch 13), Pinehurst (ch 13), and Happy Camp, CA (ch 7) are all operational.

While it is challenging at times to maintain the infrastructure in this mountainous area, we know you appreciate our service. Thank you for your ongoing support of SOPTV and our program service.

If you missed some or all of The Vietnam War last month, we will begin rebroadcasting the series on Tuesdays, starting October 3rd. Early next year, SOPTV will feature six new My Story of Service programs about our local heroes.
