WINTER FEBRUARY

On SOPTV  PBS

Jackie Robinson, Pt. 1 & 2

Examine the life and times of Jack Roosevelt Robinson, who in 1947 lifted a nation and an entire race on his shoulders when he crossed baseball's color line. In the spring of 1947, Brooklyn Dodgers General Manager Branch Rickey signed Robinson to a major league contract. To help ensure the success of their endeavor, and protect the big league prospects of future African-American players, Robinson agreed to ignore the threats and abuse he would face.

WORLD

Indep. Lens: Spies of Mississippi

Here's the inside story of a secret spy agency formed by the state of Mississippi to preserve segregation during the 1950s and '60s. Overseen by the governor and a handpicked board of 12 of the most powerful men in the state, the Sovereignty Commission was granted broad powers to investigate individuals and organizations, keep secret files, make arrests, and compel testimony.

Members' Message

Dear Friends,

As we enter our 40th year of service to southern Oregon, I'm reminded of people like you who have made KSYS and KFTS and our many translators possible. Thank you! Together, we've accomplished a great deal providing local programming and the schedule of PBS programs.

In 1977, who would have imagined the television landscape could change so rapidly? Television is increasingly becoming an "on-demand" service thanks to video recording devices. And each month more than 11,000 SOPTV viewers access nearly 30,000 programs on our website. Many are using the newly offered Passport service. Launched in November, Passport is available to all members of SOPTV who contribute at least $60 per year.

Throughout 2016, we shared many outstanding series and specials. We said goodbye to Downton Abbey from Masterpiece, we welcomed new programs like Mercy Street, Great Performances "Hamilton's America," and Splash and Bubbles for our younger viewers. Our election coverage offered thoughtful examination of issues and in-depth analysis. As our dear, departed friend Gwen Ifill often said, "We brought the light and not the heat."

Our high-quality programming continues to be recognized for excellence in an era with so many channels. The 2017 Alfred I. duPont-Columbia University Awards recognized Frontline and NOVA. The IDA Documentary Awards recently recognized two upcoming Independent Lens programs: "I Am Not Your Negro" and "The Bad Kids."

Other programs nominated for awards include nine Kidscreen Awards nominations for PBS Kids; a Screen Actors Guild nomination for the cast of Downton Abbey; and NAACP Image Award nominations for Frontline's "Policing the Police," American Masters "Maya Angelou: And Still I Rise" featured this month on February 21, and Independent Lens "I Am Not Your Negro." The latter has also been shortlisted for an Academy Award, along with American Experience "Command and Control," POV's "Hooligan Sparrow" and "Tower," and "The Witness" from Independent Lens.

On a local level, SOPTV continued Student Showcase (now in its 10th season), our Brain Bowl annual regional finals (24th year), The Jeffersonian (5th year) in partnership with students at Southern Oregon University, and we launched a new look at the towns of our region with Our Town: Gold Hill. Finally, we have continued to honor the service and sacrifices of service men and women in our My Story of Service series and our Local Focus specials.

NOVA: Search for the Super Battery

We live in an age when technological innovation seems to be limitlessly soaring. But for all the satisfying speed with which our gadgets have improved, many of them share a frustrating weakness: the batteries. Even though they have been improved, batteries remain finicky, bulky, expensive, toxic, and maddeningly short-lived.

Wednesday, February 1 at 9 pm

America Reframed: My Life in China

Director Kenneth Eng's father would often tell them the story of how he walked for seven days and six nights before swimming for four hours to Macau to escape poverty and Communism. Upon their visit to rural China for the first time in 18 years, Eng and his father retrace the perilous steps his father chanced in search of a better life.

5-Part Series

Spy in the Wild: A Nature Miniseries

More than 30 animatronic spy cameras disguised as animals secretly record behavior in the wild. These “spycams” reveal animals as having emotions and behavior similar to humans: specifically, a capacity to love, grieve, deceive, and invent. Meet Spy Orangutan, Spy Croc Hatchling, Spy Meerkat, Spy Tortoise, and more.

Wednesdays at 8, starting Feb. 8

B.B. King: American Masters

B.B. King was one of the most influential and celebrated blues musicians of all time. Explore his challenging life and career through candid interviews with the “King of the Blues,” filmed shortly before his death, and fellow music stars, including Bono, Bonnie Raitt, Carlos Santana, Eric Clapton, John Mayer, and Ringo Starr.

The Talk: Race in America

In the wake of recent tragic and fatal events between men of color and law enforcement, learn how black and Hispanic families counsel their kids to stay safe if they are stopped by the police. The film presents personal stories to illustrate the issue from multiple points of view: parent, child, the police, and the community.
