Resistance at Tule Lake

Konrad Aderer's examination of the World War II incarceration of Japanese Americans focuses on Tule Lake, the notorious camp where Japanese Americans who were labeled "disloyal" were held. Aderer's wrenching interviews with the "internees," some of whom were deported to Japan because of answers to "loyalty" questionnaires, make clear the consequences of race, wartime hysteria, and political expediency.

Make48

Take an exciting look at the invention process from idea to store shelf. In this series, teams compete to develop a new product idea, plan it, make a prototype, and pitch it — all in just 48 hours. The viewer is immersed in the action as the invention process unfolds and the teams pitch their product to a team of industry-savvy judges. The finale in Episode 8 ends with three new products heading to market.

IT'S BEEN BUSY AT SOPTV

Next month, on Tuesday, June 5th, SOPTV will pay tribute to our veterans with a special recognition event at the Medford Armory. The community is welcome to attend the recognition event, but please be sure to RSVP at soptv.org/event or call 541-779-5646. Over the last four years, SOPTV has produced and broadcast 29 My Story of Service veteran profiles and six Local Focus specials concerning veterans issues — plus Ken Burns and Lynn Novick talked with us about the making of The Vietnam War.

Ben Garcia, SOPTV's Teacher Community Project Ambassador, has been very active working with local educators. In the last month he developed a Professional Learning Network with Washington Elementary for "Scratch Jr." With this app, kids can create their own interactive stories and games with their favorite characters from PBS Kids programs (Wild Kratts, Nature Cat, Word Girl, and Peg + Cat!). The storytelling possibilities are endless with this special app for children ages 5 through 8. PBS Kids is committed to creating a safe and secure environment for children and families and being transparent about what information is collected from its users. Learn more at pbskids.org/privacy and more on SOPTV's work with educators in future columns.

We have a new employee at SOPTV! Julie Gillis joined SOPTV in early April as our Director of Development. Julie has had extensive experience in digital fundraising for television and film, and previously was in development with the University of Texas at Austin.

It's an exciting time at SOPTV and many thanks for your continued support of SOPTV and its services.

With gratitude,

Mark Stanislawski
President & CEO

Animal House of Blues

Learn how the filming of Animal House in Eugene, Oregon in 1977 led to the birth of "The Blues Brothers." The documentary features experiences from many of those who worked on Animal House, along with about 500 behind-the-scenes photographs that have never before been seen by the public.

Monday, May 14 at 9 pm

Finding Kukan

Filmmaker Robin Lung documents her journey to uncover the efforts of Li Ling-Ai, the visionary but uncredited producer of Kukan. The landmark film showcased China's resistance to Japanese occupation during World War II, and was the first American feature documentary to receive an Academy Award in 1942.

Orchard House

A captivating new documentary transports viewers to a 350-year-old home in Concord, Massachusetts with literary and historical significance. Neighbors Ralph Waldo Emerson, Henry David Thoreau, and Nathaniel Hawthorne uniquely inspired Louisa May Alcott to write Little Women at Orchard House.

Sunday, May 20 at 11:30 pm

Random Acts of Legacy

Today, we have the luxury of being able to document our lives in an instant, but during the Great Depression and into the 1950s, this luxury was almost nonexistent. Filmmaker and director Ali Kazimi knew he stumbled upon a rare artifact when he found himself in an online bidding war for film footage from 1936 to 1951.

8:00 Oregon Art Beat: Ceramics Special

Billed as the largest ceramics exhibition and sale in the country, visit the yearly gathering of clay artists from all around Oregon at Portland's Memorial Coliseum. Sara Swink is a ceramic artist who blends psychology and art, creating human and animal figures with a psychological stance. Japanese-American Hiroshi Ogawa studied traditional ceramics in Japan. In 1983, Ogawa moved to Elkton, Oregon where he would find room to create his own community of artists and build Hikarigama, the "Dragon Kiln" where he "paints with flame." Patrick Noe paints, transfers inverse versions of his paintings to wood, then uses that wood carving to press clay, which he then paints. Portland ceramicist James DeRosso stays up late in his studio...making monsters!

8:30 Oregon Field Guide: Warner Canyon/Friends of Trees/Climate and Butterflies

Oregon's second oldest ski hill is little known outside of Lakeview, Oregon, but it's a small-town favorite run entirely by volunteers. Friends of Trees has spread from a neighborhood cooperative to a regional tree-planting powerhouse. Sea-level rise is changing habitat for wildlife across the Pacific Northwest. One species that's already been affected? A rare butterfly only found on Puget Sound's San Juan Island.
