The Outback

Explore the people and animals of Australia's Kimberley region in North West Australia, a vast, rugged, and remote wilderness bursting with character. As large as California, Kimberley has a population of only about 40,000 people, who live alongside animals that have superbly adapted to the harsh and beautiful extremes of their habitat. Australia's vast North West corner is a startling landscape, one so ancient that, in parts, it predates life on the planet.

WORLD

Life on the Reef

The Great Barrier Reef is one of the richest and most complex natural ecosystems on earth — home to a stunning array of animals, from microscopic plankton to 100-ton whales. From the coral cays of the outer reef to the Islands of the Torres Strait, the reef's human residents work to find that critical balance between our needs and those of an ever-diminishing natural world.

LEARN MORE WITH PBS

For nearly 50 years, SOPTV and public stations throughout the United States have provided trusted programming and content for viewers and for supporting teachers in the classroom.

PBS was founded to use the power of media to educate, engage, and inspire all Americans. In fact, PBS and local stations are arguably the largest educational institution in the country!

Kids Learn with PBS

PBS' Ready To Learn service has helped parents and teachers prepare millions of children for success in school. PBS stations across the country broadcast extended blocks of children's TV programming and conduct thousands of local workshops for parents and caregivers. More than half of SOPTV's weekday program schedule is dedicated to children's programming.

To connect with viewers wherever they are, PBS has innovated and expanded its offerings beyond television. Today we make our high-quality children's and adult programming available through broadcast, mobile, and digital services.

In a review of ELA (English language arts) studies, 97% show that PBS content had a statistically significant impact on student learning.

Schools Teach with PBS

PBS content and programming is the #1 source of classroom video programming. PBS and local stations provide teachers with resources like PBS LearningMedia, which includes lesson plans tailored to state curriculum standards and professional development.

Students using PBS content showed significant learning gains in 94% of in-school learning studies, and 97% of studies of PBS STEM resources showed significant learning outcomes.

Benjamin Franklin noted, "An investment in knowledge pays the best interest." As our work with the Teacher Community Program continues, I will share more about our work with the educational community.

With gratitude,

Primetime 3-Channel Schedule

The Ganges with Sue Perkins

Sue Perkins traces the course of the Ganges. Beginning high in the Himalayas at the river's holy source, Sue travels through the agricultural and industrial heartlands of the Gangetic Plain, visits the holy city of Varanasi and travels on to the river's vast delta on the Bay of Bengal. Sue meets the characters that make up modern India.

Wednesdays, Aug. 1, 8 & 15 at 10 pm

Big Pacific

Plunge into the Pacific with researchers and cinematographers and see the ocean's rare and dazzling creatures. Each episode focuses on an iconic characteristic of the Pacific — voracious, mysterious, violent, and passionate — to weave stories from across the sea that illustrate the multi-faceted character of this ocean.
