Chef Marcus Samuelsson embodies America's extraordinarily rich cultural diversity — born in Ethiopia, raised in Sweden, and a proud resident of Harlem. In this series, Samuelsson explores the best global cuisine hidden in America's communities — from the flavorful fare of Washington, DC's Little Ethiopia to Fremont, California's Little Kabul, with its large Afghan population, to the thriving Vietnamese shrimpers on the bayous of Louisiana.

WORLD

The Italian Americans

Unlike other immigrant groups, many Italians did not come to America to stay. At the turn of the 20th century, most came to work, earn money to support their families, and eventually return home. Nearly half of the first generation Italian immigrants did return to Italy. For those that made America home, their struggle to maintain a distinct Italian culture was guided by remarkably powerful ideals of family.

Food Over 50

The mission of this cooking series is to inform, instruct, and entertain America's late Gen-X, Boomer, and senior audiences with artistic and appetizing preparations of wide-ranging international recipes. Hosted by David Jackson and filmed at his homes in the Mojave Desert and Scotland, the series also provides viewers with their own personal nutritionist. Registered dietician Elizabeth Kelsey joins David to critique recipes from a health perspective.

EDUCATION UPDATE & VETERAN BBQ SUCCESS!

This summer is going to be a busy one for Ben Garcia who heads SOPTV's Teacher Community Program. Ben is working with Cliff Cowly, at Hedrick Middle School, who is the director of the Young Writers camps. Ben will be teaching the Heritage Writers Camp, which supports local Latinos who are aspiring writers. Ben will also be participating in a number of educational conferences this month in Chicago with PBS Digital Innovators and International Society for Technology Educators (ISTE).

Our Veteran Appreciation BBQ event last month attracted nearly 400 people to the Medford Armory to honor those who served our great country. We screened clips from our newest My Story of Service season and we presented a special recognition in honor of World War II Veteran and POW Walter Haines, who recently passed away. It was a great event that touched a number of people.

One veteran sent us a note following the event:

Thank you for all your help and kindness in the SOPTV series. I have links to other Vets, friends, relatives far and wide outside the SOPTV viewing area. My own "Story" has helped me get closer with many of them. That gift is priceless to me. My Story opened communications with a sister in Washington and another in Los Angeles that I never had been able to have.

Far more important is the way this series allows Vets to communicate in their own words. The series is our voices. In this political climate this is a rare and huge gift.

Our thanks to our sponsors: All Care Health, The Collins Foundation, Cow Creek Umpqua Tribe, and Scott Valley Bank. Our thanks also go to the National Guard, VA Southern Oregon Rehabilitation Center & Clinics, and Rogue Valley Veterans & Community Outreach. And remember, you can see all the current and prior My Story of Service profiles on our website.

Many thanks also to our members for making this work possible. With gratitude,

The Tunnel: Vengeance (Season 3)

Elise (Clémence Poésy) and Karl (Stephen Dillane) take on a toxic and terrifying duo whose mutual defining quality is an existential death wish. When the question posed by the couple — what is a life worth? — is directed straight back at Karl, he is forced to confront an utterly impossible choice.

Sundays, Jul 1–Aug 5 at 10:30 pm

Forgotten Ellis Island

Visit the abandoned immigrant hospital on Ellis Island. During the great wave of immigration, 22 medical buildings sprawled across two islands adjacent to Ellis Island, the largest port of entry to the United States. Massive and modern, the hospital was America's first line of defense against contagious, often virulent, disease.
