AUTUMN OCTOBER

On SOPTV  PBS

Jamestown

In 1619, on what feels like the edge of the world, sits the British colony of Jamestown, Virginia. For 12 years, it has been populated only by men, but the settlement is shaken up when the first women, including Alice, Verity, and Jocelyn, land in this wilderness after deciding to leave behind their dark pasts in England. The disruptive new arrivals make an immediate impact and are thrust into a new world of love, desire, power, and survival.

Yan Can Cook: Spice Kingdom

Martin Yan explores the many aspects of how food and spices shaped the history and culture of western China. He traces the region's early history to its water source at Dujiangyan. Named "Tian Fu" by Chinese scholars and historians, which means the land of heavenly abundance, the region's rich farm land and temperate climate gave rise to 23 centuries of uninterrupted history. In this culinary journey, he also examines the region's daily life, from street snacks to tea.

GENEROUS SUPPORTERS MAKE SOPTV POSSIBLE

SOPTV is available to all in southern Oregon with a television or online access.

Annual membership support, underwriting, and contributions from generous donors help SOPTV obtain and pay for our share of the national program service, as well as special acquisitions for our viewers. Funds from our donors also enable SOPTV to produce local programs.

On October 6, our friends at Blackstone Publishing in Ashland — one of the largest independent audiobook producers — is donating the proceeds from their annual warehouse sale to SOPTV and Jefferson Public Radio.

Blackstone is selling their fantastic books and audiobooks for $5 each! Plus, bring your kids to the large Family Fair with games, food, music, a raffle, narrator auditions, and more!

We appreciate Blackstone's contribution and hope you will take this opportunity to "load up" on audio books and support public broadcasting.

Many thanks!

Mark Stanislawski

— SOPTV's Mission —

As an independent media voice, Southern Oregon Public Television enriches our understanding of the past, enlivens our present and prepares us for the future by connecting our community with quality local and national programming that educates, enlightens, inspires and entertains.
