Doc Martin, Season 8

In Season 8, Dr. Martin Ellingham and his wife Louisa are finally living together again with their son James Henry, but their problems are far from over. With Louisa's encouragement, James Henry has grown attached to Buddy the dog, but Martin is disgusted by the four-legged friend. In need of a new nanny, Louisa finds herself juggling too many responsibilities and considers switching careers. Can Martin cope with all the changes — or will he risk the fragile accord he's forged with his family?

WORLD

Perfect 36

Of all the battles waged on Nashville's doorstep, the final throes for the passage of the 19th Amendment were among the most heated, controversial, and colorful. In July of 1920, all eyes were on the Tennessee capital as anti- and pro-suffragists each fought for their vision of a socially evolving United States. See the dramatic vote to ratify this amendment, and the years of debate about women's suffrage that preceded it.

Kevin Belton's New Orleans Kitchen

Chef Kevin Belton explores the wide mix of cultures that contribute to the distinctive food of New Orleans — delving into the city's diverse culinary influences, including Cuban and Vietnamese cuisine. Explore the food of the city, from fried oyster po-boy sandwiches with blue cheese and buffalo sauce and Creole brined chicken with collards and yams, to duck and andouille gumbo with potato salad. Kevin emphasizes ingredients available in the pantry.

Members' Message

HAPPY NEW YEAR EVERYONE!

As we enter 2019, I have been reflecting on our past year's accomplishments, as well as what I want to see for our station in the coming months. We had an exciting 2018, but I sincerely believe the best is yet to come. We continue to work hard to bring you programming from quality sources around the world, and we have big plans for 2019.

In December, we upgraded our translator equipment as part of the federally mandated television channel repack. This meant that we stopped transmitting on channel 42, and are now using channel 34 for our over-the-air broadcast in the Rogue Valley area. It also meant we upgraded our equipment to have more transmission power. During the switchover, we experienced unforeseeable problems, and we want to thank all of you for remaining patient during those issues. While this process was an inconvenience for a short time, just know it actually improved our broadcasting capabilities to continue meeting the needs of our members.

Moving forward, we have some exciting new programming. This month we premiere the much-anticipated Season 3 of Victoria on Masterpiece. If you haven't seen the first two seasons, they are available on PBS Passport. We are also re-airing Season 2 this month as we lead up to the Season 3 premiere, Sunday, Jan. 13 at 9 p.m.

In addition to Victoria, we have new episodes of NOVA, Nature, Finding Your Roots, Shakespeare & Hathaway, and Antiques Roadshow coming up this month. I am also happy to say that we have a new Jeffersonian scheduled Monday, Jan. 14 at 9 p.m. (Students at Southern Oregon University produce The Jeffersonian.) Again, if you haven't seen earlier episodes of The Jeffersonian, make sure to check them out on Passport or on our website at www.soptv.org/Jeffersonian.

As always, I would like to thank all of our members for your continued support. Our work could not be done without your help. Thank you from everyone at the station. I hope this new year brings you health and prosperity.

Warm regards,

Mark Stanislawski
President & CEO

Dictator's Playbook

From Mussolini to Saddam Hussein, dictators have had a profound effect on the 20th century. How did they seize and wield power? What forces rose up against them or resisted them in secret? How did they finally come to the bitter end? Each episode answers those questions and reveals a portrait of brutality and power.

Nature: Equus – Story of the Horse

Travel around the world with anthropologist Niobe Thompson to uncover the history of mankind's relationship with the horse. Discover the habits and biology of these majestic animals and ride along with the world's last nomadic tribes in this two-part series.

Wednesday, Jan. 16 & 23 at 8 pm

Protecting Paradise: W. Everglades

Dreamers and schemers have tried to drain and claim the Florida Everglades for over a century. Plume hunting, clear-cutting of ancient cypress trees, development of the "world's largest subdivision" and the "world's largest supersonic jetport" near Everglades National Park, inspired a groundswell of grassroots effort.

NOVA: Island Volcano

Thousands of Hawaiian residents were uprooted in 2018 when Kilauea Volcano erupted, sending rivers of lava through communities and into the ocean. This frightening spike in activity transformed parts of the island paradise into a roaring inferno, spewing rock and causing massive destruction. Join scientists as they head underground to investigate the geological cause of the eruption and what that tells us about the future of Hawaii.
