SOPBS EDUCATION MANAGER

ANNA FORD

HELLO SOUTHERN OREGON PBS!

It's great to be here and have this opportunity to update you all on my work over the past three months and share my vision for the future. Our community is currently grappling with a wide range of critical issues, such as poverty, equity and inclusion, substance abuse, and the pressing matter of climate change. As the Education Manager, my role is to create educational opportunities that address these challenges and empower all members of our community.

Through conversations with community members, partners, parents, and grandparents, it has become clear that media literacy is a pressing need across all age groups. Independent thinking and 21st-century literacy skills are valued by both grandparents and grandkids alike. Therefore, I am excited to expand our Media Literacy offerings, not just within classrooms, but also beyond.

Please feel free to contact me at aford@sopbs.org or 541.787.0823 if you are an educator, administrator, homeschooler or parent interested in finding out more about our Educational Services.

In the coming six months, Southern Oregon PBS will partner with KQED to offer Media Literacy certification to local educators, librarians, and community members. This certification will be available free of charge, and individuals will have the opportunity to learn independently or within a local cohort. We are eagerly anticipating an array of classes as diverse and unique as each Southern Oregon educator.

Furthermore, we are actively pursuing a grant with Work Source to provide technical training and job placement opportunities as an extension of the PBS NewsHour Student Reporting Labs (SRL). During the course of running the SRL program, we identified an obstacle faced by several students: poverty. Despite their accomplishments in the program and their passion for learning, they had to drop out to work and support their families.

This grant would enable us to offer paid opportunities for students to work towards a certification in digital marketing and communication. The program aims to provide immediate employment prospects and potentially lead to a lifetime of higher earnings for these students. To accomplish this, we are hoping to collaborate with Southern Oregon University (SOU), where SOU will provide classroom training, and Southern Oregon PBS will offer job readiness internships.

These initiatives reflect our commitment to meeting the evolving educational needs of our community. By prioritizing media literacy, expanding certification opportunities, and providing targeted job placement programs, we are actively equipping individuals with the skills and knowledge necessary to thrive in the modern world.

In closing, I am grateful for the support and collaboration of the Southern Oregon PBS team, members, community partners, and educators in these endeavors. Together, we can make a profound difference in the lives of our community members by providing them with the tools to navigate the media landscape effectively and pursue meaningful employment opportunities. Let us continue to work together to build a stronger, more resilient Southern Oregon community.

Thank you for your time and ongoing support.

Sincerely,

Anna

HAVE YOU WATCHED THE

WORLD

CHANNEL LATELY?

The multiple award-winning WORLD Channel gives you the personal stories behind the headlines. Devoted to telling stories that humanize complex issues, WORLD shares the best of public media in news, documentaries, and fact-based informational programming that helps us understand conflicts, movements and cultures that may be distinct from your own.

While airing news and documentaries from PBS, WORLD's focus is on its original content, offering a national platform to makers examining issues too often ignored by mainstream media. The WORLD Channel's emerging and master filmmakers spotlight a diversity of voices, telling stories not heard elsewhere.

WORLD has developed 4 original series:

AMERICA REFRAMED brings to life compelling stories, personal voices and experiences that illuminate the contours of our ever-changing country. (Thursdays at 8pm)

DOC WORLD brings international documentaries from around the globe to a US audience. The films explore social concerns, cultural touchstones, political hot topics and environmental issues, revealing the commonalities and differences that peoples and cultures experience. (Sundays at 10pm)

LOCAL, USA is a half-hour series that features fascinating stories of diverse people from PBS stations and independent producers from across the country. (Mondays at 9pm)

STORIES FROM THE STAGE invites storytellers from around the world to share extraordinary tales of what it means to be human. Each episode features both on-stage performances and interviews about their inspirations and craft, and the meaning behind their stories. (Mondays at 9:30pm)

GRANTCHESTER Season 8

Sundays, July 9 – August 6 at 9pm
(Episode 6 at 10pm on August 6)

Set in the 1950s in the village of Grantchester, the series finds a handsome vicar at the center of local crimes and murders that seem to cry out for his help. The vicar has a cranky ally in Detective Inspector Geordie Keating.

In Season 8, Will Davenport's life has changed for the better as he's happily married. But fate introduces a stunning development that will rock Will's life and shift everything in Grantchester. Geordie and Cathy are content, but when they are both confronted with surprising announcements from work, will it threaten their new-found happiness? And of course, there's that little matter of murder.

July 9 – Episode 1: After a fun-filled charity motorbike race, a young biker is found dead. Will and Geordie struggle to work out who would want to hurt a gifted young man?

July 16 – Episode 2: In the aftermath of a fatal accident, Will is devastated to be the cause while Geordie rushes to exonerate his friend.

July 23 – Episode 3: At one of Cambridge's colleges, a man is murdered and a valuable painting is stolen, leaving Geordie to determine if the two crimes are linked.

July 30 – Episode 4: Leonard is devastated when a half-way house resident is found dead. The man confessed suicidal thoughts to Will, but is this suicide or murder?

August 6 – Episode 5: Geordie is placed on desk duty as Elliot contrives to force him to resign. The next murder case is handed to Larry, who struggles, but wisely enlists the help of Miss Scott.

August 6 – Episode 6: Will has disappeared, but with Bonnie about to give birth, Geordie must find him and bring him to his senses before it is too late.

Primetime July 12 – 22

D.I. RAY

Sundays, July 9 – 30 at 10pm

When D.I. Rachita Ray, a British-Asian policewoman new to homicide is assigned to investigate the suspected honor killing of a young Muslim man, she quickly realizes the suspects can't be guilty. The evidence against the two brothers from a British Hindu family is flimsy at best. Her attempts at conveying this to her superiors and her colleagues fall on deaf ears, hidden biases and a keenness to wrap the case up mean no one is listening to her.

That is until her probing leads the team to a much more sinister crime. In this four-part drama, D.I. Ray goes on a journey that sees her uncover a complex web of deceit within organized crime, whilst laying bare the wounds deep within herself that she's spent a lifetime ignoring. Wounds that are born from a desperate desire to "fit in," despite not looking the part.

July 9 – Episode 1: D.I. Rachita Ray is promoted to Homicide, but realizes instantly she is there to "tick a box" and that the so-called "culturally-specific homicide" she is assigned to, is anything but.

July 16 – Episode 2: Rachita and the team race to track down Anjali Kapoor, making more than one grim discovery in the process. This is no honor crime.

July 23 – Episode 3: The body count continues to rise as Rachita and the team uncover more evidence suggesting they are dealing with highly dangerous organized criminals.

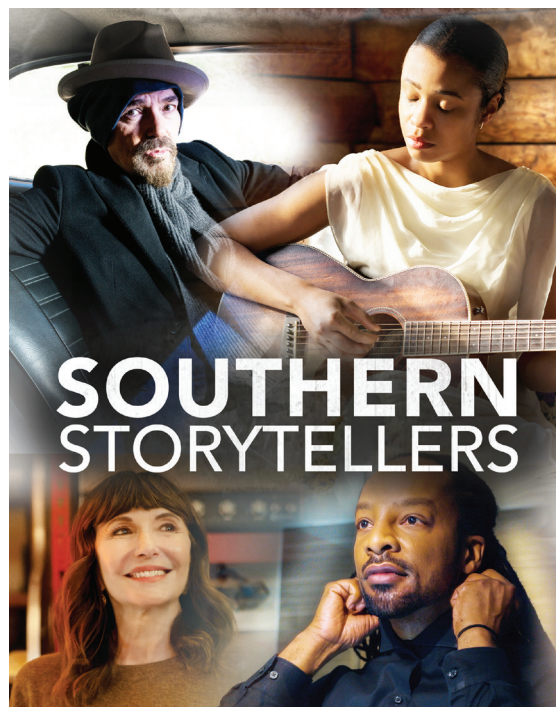

July 30 – Episode 4: Rachita makes a shocking discovery which has a huge impact on both her investigation and her personal life.

The American South is known for its boundless creativity, absorbing personalities and evocative landscapes. SOUTHERN STORYTELLERS, a new three-episode series from PBS, Arkansas PBS and award-winning filmmaker Craig Renaud, follows some of the region's most compelling and influential contemporary creators to the places they call home — the communities that fertilize the stories they tell in books, songs, poems, plays and on screens large and small.

"SOUTHERN STORYTELLERS comes from our desire, as native Southerners, to show the South in an authentic light," says Courtney Pledger, executive director and CEO of Arkansas PBS. "And we can think of no better way to do that than through the experiences of the region's writers and creators who are able to engage us, move us and take us to a deeper understanding of such a dynamic place and its people."

Celebrate Southern identity through the eyes of creators of literature, music, film and television, including authors Jesmyn Ward, Michael Twitty, Angie Thomas and David Joy; poets Jericho Brown and Natasha Trethewey; songwriters Jason Isbell, Lyle Lovett, Tarriona "Tank" Ball, Adia Victoria, Amanda Shires, Thao Nguyen and Justin Moore; musician/songwriter/screenwriter/actor Billy Bob Thornton; songwriter/actor Mary Steenburgen; and screenwriters Qui Nguyen and Michael Waldron.

In addition to the three-part broadcast series, SOUTHERN STORYTELLERS includes a six-part series for PBS Digital Studios — SOUTHERN SOUNDS — that explores the powerful role of place in the lyrics of Southern songwriters.

COUNTRY MUSIC chronicles country music's early days, from southern Appalachia's songs of struggle, heart-break and faith to the rollicking Western swing of Texas, California's honky-tonks and Nashville's "Grand Ole Opry." The film follows the evolution of country music over the course of the 20th century as it eventually emerges to become "America's music."

The documentary explores crucial questions — "What is country music?" and "Where did it come from?" — while focusing on the biographies of the fascinating trailblazers who created and shaped it — from the Carter Family, Jimmie Rodgers, Bill Monroe and Bob Wills to Hank Williams, Patsy Cline, Johnny Cash, Merle Haggard, Loretta Lynn, Charley Pride, Willie Nelson, Dolly Parton, Emmylou Harris, Garth Brooks and many more — as well as the times in which they lived. Much like the music itself, the film tells unforgettable stories of hardships and joys shared by everyday people.

"At the heart of every great country music song is a story," said Ken Burns. "As the songwriter Harlan Howard said, 'It's three chords and the truth.' The common experiences and human emotions speak to each of us about love and loss, about hard times and the chance of redemption. As an art form, country music is also forever revisiting its history, sharing and updating old classics and celebrating its roots, which are, in many ways, foundational to our country itself."

ONCE UPON A TIME IN NORTHERN IRELAND

August 28 – 30

This powerful five-part series gives voice to the people who lived through Northern Ireland's violent past by sharing intimate, unheard testimonies from all sides of the conflict. The series combines unfiltered personal accounts with archival footage to tell the story of the people and communities that had to live with conflict daily — and are still dealing with its legacies today.

It Wasn't Like a Movie Anymore

August 28 at 9pm – Episode 1

Northern Ireland's progression from relative peace to full-blown conflict was rapid, and when 13 unarmed Catholics were shot dead by British Paratroopers on "Bloody Sunday," it was seen as a recruitment drive for the Provisional IRA.

Do Paramilitaries Lie Awake at Night?

August 28 at 10pm – Episode 2

In 1972, a deeply segregated society emerged, with many Catholic and Protestant working-class communities policed by paramilitary organizations. Hatred and fear of the 'other side' are endemic, as is a devotion to one's own culture and traditions.

So Many Broken Hearts

August 29 at 9pm – Episode 3

The devastating impact of the conflict is explored through the stories of three women. Car bombs and assassinations are now part of everyday life in Northern Ireland.

Loose Talk Costs Lives

August 29 at 10pm – Episode 4

By the late 1980s, the news in Northern Ireland is a daily list of the dead. The conflict becomes an intelligence war. To prevent further terrorist violence, there are efforts to infiltrate paramilitary organizations. "Trust nobody" is the mantra.

Who Wants To Live Like That

August 30 at 10pm – Episode 5

It seemed that violence might escalate further, but following years of negotiations between politicians, paramilitaries and the British and Irish Governments, an IRA ceasefire was announced in 1994. Still, peace came at a cost.

WEDNESDAYS, JULY 5 — AUGUST 9 AT 9PM

Hosted by biologist and Princeton University professor Shane Campbell-Staton, Ph.D., this part-science, part-travel series takes viewers from high-tech labs to sweltering street markets, from farms to restaurants, and from primeval forests to the back alleys of New York to explore the ways humans are transforming the planet — and what those transformations tell us about who we are as a species. HUMAN FOOTPRINT is a visually stunning series set to an original score by legendary hip-hop and jazz producer Adrian Younge.

In 4.5 billion years, the planet has never experienced anything like humans; we are no ordinary organism. Even our most basic needs — food, water, and shelter — place a staggering burden on the planet's resources. Through unique interactions with an eclectic cast of characters — from scientists and historians to rat exterminators and dog dancing gurus — Shane discovers the complex motivations behind our impacts and unveils opportunities for a less lopsided coexistence.

Each episode of HUMAN FOOTPRINT is built on a foundation of science, but the biggest lessons are about human nature. The series is not a “doom and gloom” tale of human villainy. Instead, it is an honest reckoning with our vast footprint and our species' singular history of transforming the planet. The series' six episodes cover a wide range of topics: invasive species that are both deeply devastating to ecosystems and critical components of culture; how it came to pass that once-wild wolves now work, sleep, and dance (that's right, dance) alongside us; how five species that met our needs have hitched a ride along with us to global domination; the way that modern cities are both deadly and delightful for their inhabitants; and the science and history behind a crop with an outsized impact on culture — cotton.

EPISODES

JULY 5 — STRANGERS IN PARADISE

Invasive species are reshaping the world's ecosystems, but who's to blame? In the age of humans, how does our species decide what belongs?

JULY 12 — TOP PREDATOR

There is a killer inside us. Our biology, culture, technology, and economy have transformed our species into the world's greatest predator. From Yellowstone to Mozambique, Shane explores our impact as the planet's top predator.

JULY 19 — MAN'S BEST FRIEND

Dogs are more than “Man's Best Friend” — they have been reshaped by evolution into humans' perfect partner. And just as we've transformed them, dogs have left an unmistakable pawprint on us — and the world we share.

JULY 26 — THE REPLACEMENTS

Shane explores the surprising science and unexpected histories of “The Replacements:” five animal and plant species that made allies of humans, grew to dominate the planet alongside us, and changed their destinies (and ours) forever.

AUGUST 2 — THE URBAN JUNGLE

Explore the modern city: an ecosystem built by and for us. Shane encounters three species thriving in the city, reckons with our complex urban history, and envisions a new and wilder urban future.

AUGUST 9 — THE GROUND BELOW

A prehistoric coastline from North Carolina to Texas laid the foundation for a crop that re-shaped our history, our culture, and even
